At the end of the session, you'll share your new skills with friends and family in a real magic show...and keep all the tricks! Class is designed to enhance communication and performance skills in a supportive, creative atmosphere. Grades K-5

Your mission this fall is to learn the science that enables planes to fly, build all-new amazing airplanes and then...fly them! Learn the STEM principles behind the physics of flight. Then test these principles on the many models you get to build. Your mission will involve aircraft like the Starfighter helicopter, Mustang P-51 glider and the electric Dragon Fly. Will you complete your mission? Yes, and with flying colors! Build it. Fly it. Keep it.
